Easter 2022

May I write to express my thanks on the Parish's behalf to all those who helped at the Holy Week Liturgies. Thank you to Deacon Joseph, Pat and the altar server for allowing for a dignified celebration of the Liturgies and to the readers for their proclamation of the Word. Alison arranged the flowers and a beautiful Altar of Repose.

The parish is grateful to Caroline, now ably assisted by young people, and their dedication to live streaming the Holy Week services, which allow those at home, unable to attend in person, to also celebrate in the liturgies.

We extend our appreciation also to Emma, Mark, Gavin and the other musicians and singers who provided the music for the Holy Week services adding an extra dimension to our worship.

May I wish you all a very blessed Eastertide.

Fr Peter

We are very sad to announce the death of Margaret O'Shea, who with her husband, Michael, was an active and well loved member of this parish before they retired to Storrington in Sussex.

She died on April 5th as the result of an accident. Funeral arrangements will be added shortly.

Easter cards delivered to housebound and shielding parishioners

The parish office has received several messages of appreciation of those children who made the Easter cards that were delivered to our housebound parishioners.

Thanks to all who took part in this initiative, the children who made the cards, and the team of helpers who delivered them.

Easter Garden Competition

Well done to our three entrants who unleashed their creativity and made the beautiful Easter gardens that have been on display in the church. Many parishioners commented on how lovely they were and lots of children were entranced by them. Could the entrants please drop by the parish office to collect their "prizes"?

Pictures in no particular order.

Catholics in Health and Social Care: ethics and practice

Are you looking for an opportunity to meet people motivated by their faith to care for others? Would you like to explore the unique contribution that faith makes to the health and social care sector? Are you interested in learning about the ethical challenges work in this sector may bring? St Mary's University, the Anscombe Centre and the Bios Centre are holding events on ethics and practice in health and social care. The events are aimed at Christians working in the health and social care sectors, but anybody is welcome to attend to discuss, amongst other topics, the challenges of assisted dying, the care of the dying and questions of conscientious objection in the workplace. The events will take place in London (2nd April—complete) and by zoom (14th May). Participants will include: Bishop John Sherrington, Auxiliary Bishop of Westminster; Prof David Albert Jones, Director of the Anscombe Bioethics Centre; Margaret Doherty, Director of the Centre for the Art of Dying Well; Dr Helen Watt, Senior Research Fellow of the Bios Centre. There will also be a panel discussion with chaplains and practitioners in health and social care. As well as some fascinating talks and discussions, it will be an opportunity to network with others who take an interest in these vital issues.
